DESCRIPTION: This intensive course focuses both on "what to teach" and "how to teach it." Though an instructor development course, this course does in fact feature a higher volume of range time and dynamic shooting drills, as our aim is to impart techniques and tactics upon the attendee that they can take back to their agency and incorporate into their programs. There is no material in this course that is "competition" oriented, and all material is designed to be relevant to the law enforcement officer including those serving in concealed carry assignments. This course will feature an extensive coverage of basic skills and drills, then progress to a number of applicable courses of fire and advanced techniques. Attendees can expect a high volume of all of the following: Movement/shooting on the move, use of cover, low light, all manner of positions, one handed shooting, disabled officer/wounded re-function techniques, and other relevant officer survival skills. Our course topics are not taught "one way," as our staff will present multiple options for various pistol techniques. A variety of very current, "news you can use" for instructor development topics will be covered, to include presentation skills, course of fire development, training liability and risk reduction, and other important areas. In order to accomplish this, we utilize a very aggressive schedule in order to provide the attendee with the most thorough and well rounded course possible. Our instructors include a number of very experienced law enforcement pistol instructors, some of whom have military backgrounds, service with federal and local law enforcement full time training cadres, two of the major private training academies, and other venues. We have assembled what we believe you will find to be one of the most comprehensive pistol instructor courses in the country.

STANDARDS: Because this is an "INSTRUCTOR" course it is performance based and requires students to pass a written examination, our qualification course of fire, and an assigned project.

EQUIPMENT: 2000 rounds of pistol ammunition (in addition to off-duty carry, duty ammunition), Semi-automatic pistol (more than one may be brought to the course), Duty Rig with 5 magazines (8 if carrying a single stack or less than 8 round capacity), Concealed Carry Rig for duty handgun (unless another weapon is carried), Off duty, backup, and concealment pistols with ammunition and holster-wear, High intensity handheld tactical flashlight with spare batteries, LED/keychain type light (something for safety use on the range), Pistol cleaning gear, Locking device/container for off duty and transport, Writing materials, 2 dozen business cards, Billed baseball type cap, Wraparound protective eyewear (sunglass and clear) with case and lens cleaning materials, Hearing protection-Ear Muffs, Any training aids or materials which you wish to use in the course.
